OUTLOOK BRIGHT IRON AND STEEL NEW YORK CHECKS DESPITE SLUMP

Analysis of Situation On New Present Indications Foreshadow York Market at Opening of Week.

REAL CAUSES OF DECLINE RUSH WORK AT THE MILLS

Excess of Speculation and Overburdening of Credit Are to Blaime.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—So far as the fundamentals of the situation are concerned nothing of a really unfavorable nature developed during the week in Wall Street. Prices underwent a sharp reacnature developed during the week in Wall Street. Prices underwent a sharp reaction, and signs were not wanting at the close of the week that the decline might go still further, but this process would be rather in the nature of a ratification of a condition which was disturbing.

Disappontment over the meagre response made by the public to the Russo-Japanese peace agreement, and fears of microtury stringency were the cause which professional Wall Street assigned for the shump in prices. No one will be inclined to seriously dispute the truth that these features may have served to open the eyes of spooulators corrain existing conditions, which redered enthusiastic upbidding of prices undesirable, if not impossible, which inclined the Portsmouth conference broken up without an agreement the same result would in all probability have followed by the prices of the open that point, in other words, the stock market contained within testing the seeds of its own undoing.

The Real Cause.

The offort to explain the decline, as due coledy to the bear party, is childish. The

The Money Market. The Money Market.

As to the money market at the present time, it is rather curious that the grounds upon which its future firmness is now predicted, are very largely a set of conditions which Wall Street has regarded as the most favorable factors for highest process. To be sure, there has been an excessive burdening of credit due to the marking up of securities to unprecedented heights. Still these were in many instances, justified by bankers and speculators, by the magnificent crops and expanding agricultural and commercial activity. If one thing was more certain than another, it was that of its great crops and its quickened commercial life, that an active employment of capital would be necessary.

active employment of capital would be necessary.

It is true that the money market has as yet made no sign of acute stringency, but unless bank fixtures are falsified and all experience fails, the situation, as disclosed by the banking returns, render it impossible for an active and advancing market to continue coincident with the increasing agricultural and commercial demand for money. To correct the situation, the markets proceed along the line of least resistance, and that is liquidation in the security market.

Kuth Russian and Incapese loans and SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE Received by the Board of Supervisors of the county of Henrico up to noon of the sth day of September, 100, for furnishing Coal at the Courthouse and Alinshouse. State price per ton, delivered at the Courthouse and at the Almshouse. Also price at the yard for the quantity needed at the Almshouse, which is located on the Nine Mile Road, one and a half miles from the city. Quantity probably needed, 75 tons. Right reserved to reject any or all bids.

SAMUEL P. WADDILL, Clerk.

With Russian and Japanese loans and with conditions created by the peace, the present and immediate market has little to do. The matters that it has chiefly to consider are domestic and immediate. It is well to recall in this conjection that not a single fundamental factor has been changed by the decline in the security market of the week. The factor has been changed by the decline in the security market of the week. The crops are most promising, bank clearances espanded, railway earnings are sustained. It is not matters such as these which influenced the market's decline, or which may force reaction further. It was simply the excess of speculation, the advance of prices to too high a level, the overburdening of credit. In liquidation is safety and the correction of these arrors. The industrial future is certainly bright.

Some Turtle.

While out in the river with his launch a few ays ago, "Bob" Garner ran upon a large sea turtle, measuring more than two feet across the hack, which broke off one of the blades of his propellor like pipe clay. The turtle escaped.—Irvington Citizen.

portant developments in the iron and steel situation reflect the strength and stability of the industry. These include the resumption of helping of pig fron from the Bessemer association by the United States Steel Corporation, the placing of large orders for steel rails, fixing the $28 rail price for 1905, continued heavy demand for raw steel, plates and shapes, and the announcement of plans for new extensions and improvements. September opens under particularly favorable auspices, and present indications foreshadow for 1906-the greatest year in the history of American iron and steel making.

Assurance of bountiful crops and the extensionary freight movements have resulted in the railroads placing large orders for track, bridge, and other material. Rails are very active, and, although the books for 1905 delivery have been opened but a few days, it is reliably stated that orders for 20,0600 ons have already been taken, with 250,000 tons more pending. The steel car plants are almost swamped with orders, and deliveries are very uncertain. The Pennsylvania has just placed an order for 5,000 cars, but could not be promised any deliveries hefore January. It is reported here that the company will order and deliveries hefore January. It is reported here that the company will can future, which would make 27,500 care provided within a year. GETTING GOOD PRICES.

Eastern Shore Farmers Sell Sweet Potatoes to Advantage.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) EASTVILLE, NORTHAMPTON CO., VA., September 3.—The truckers of the VA., September 3.—Ine truckers of the sevent potatoes. The spring Irish potato crop paid nothing, owing to the low price at which they sold, so the good market for the sweets has been very fortunate indeed for the people of both this county and Acconnac. The latter county devotes more attention to the sweet potato, so that the profits of the truckers there will be greater than will be the case here in Northampton, where the Irish potato is the chief money crop. The fail Irish potatoes are promising and will doubtless make up somewhat for the loss on the spring crop.

The Keller Fair, its the old Grunger Fair is now generally known, closed a very successful season Friday, the twenty-eighth annual meeting. There was a large attendance each day, while on Thursday fully 5,000 people were present, the racing programme was an excellent one.
